Example Check for Mobile Deposits

The Back of a Check

Often you need to write a note about where you are mobile depositing

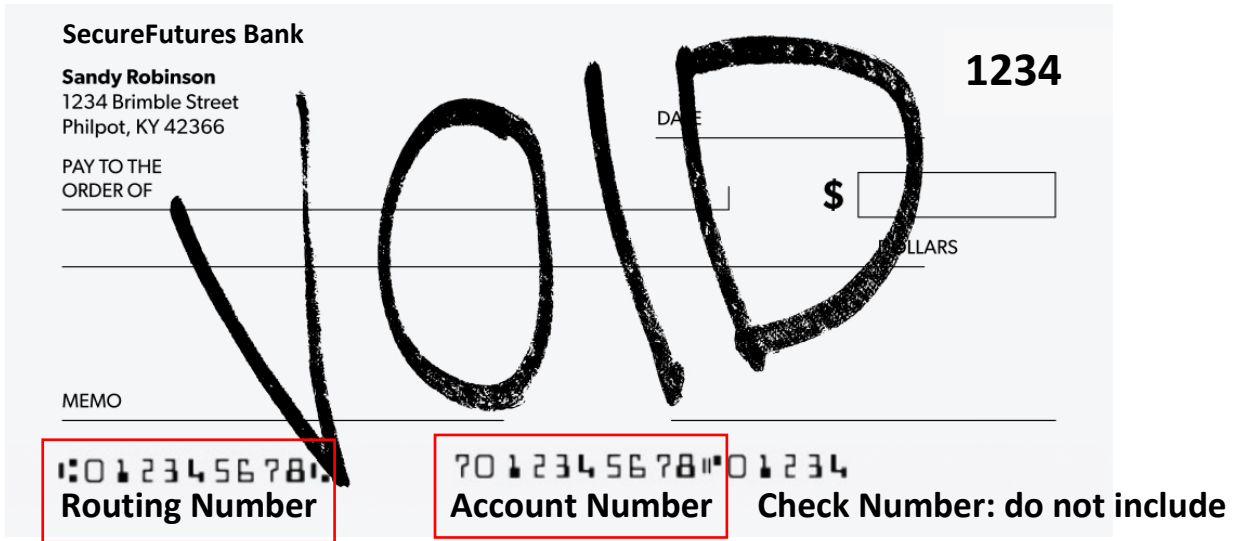

The diagram shows the back of a check with several sections. On the left, there are three horizontal lines for endorsement. The first line contains the signature 'Jane Smith'. The second line contains the text 'For mobile deposit only'. The third line contains 'at SaviBank'. Below these lines is the text 'ENDORSE HERE'. To the right of the endorsement lines is a vertical line, followed by the text 'DO NOT WRITE, STAMP OR SIGN BELOW THIS LINE' and 'RESERVED FOR FINANCIAL INSTITUTION USE'. The central part of the back of the check is a large grey area with the words 'ORIGINAL DOCUMENT' in large white letters. To the right of this area is a box containing the text 'SECURITY FEATURES', 'Microprinting around border on face', 'Laid lines on back', and 'The words "ORIGINAL DOCUMENT" ON BACK'. Arrows point from the text 'Often you need to write a note about where you are mobile depositing' to the endorsement lines. Another arrow points from the text 'Endorsement (your unique signature; DON'T PRINT!)' to the signature line. A third arrow points from the text 'Do not write anything below the line! The rest of the check is for the bank's security features' to the vertical line. A note at the bottom states: 'NOTE: This only applies when you receive a check, NOT when you write a check.'

Endorsement (your unique signature; DON'T PRINT!) NOTE: This only applies when you receive a check, NOT when you write a check.

Do not write anything below the line! The rest of the check is for the bank's security features

- You will still likely need to write an occasional check at some point in your life.
- You will be able to pay many of your bills online, but you can also send physical checks from your bank to people or companies using online banking.
- If you receive a check, you should not endorse the back until immediately before you deposit it. Once it's endorsed, anyone could potentially cash it.

Checks aren't as common these days, but routing and account numbers are still relevant.

Tips for Protecting Yourself from Identity Theft

Keep your birth certificate and social security card in a safe place – not with you!
Keep your cell phone, driver’s license, checkbook, and credit card in a safe place.
Do not give your personal information over the phone or internet unless you are sure you are talking to a reputable organization and it is necessary to do so.
Be careful of people claiming to work for the government and utility companies!
Limit your paper trail and guard your data.
Shred personal information before discarding.
Pick up your mail as soon as possible.
Pay bills via online banking or mobile banking to avoid having to mail checks.
If you need to mail a check, use a post office mailbox, not your home mailbox.
Ensure you are using a private network connection and secure websites (https) when accessing accounts online.
Avoid using the same password and user name for multiple accounts.
